Write at least 400 words on ONE of the following.

1. You have been asked to write an editorial expressing the view of your local newspaper on an issue that has both local and global consequences, for example, animal and nature conservation or poverty. Write your editorial.

 2. A group of young athletes from overseas is visiting your country for the first time. Each of them will be staying in the home of someone in your area. The president of the youth sports club has asked you to write to one of them to provide some advice on how to behave in an appropriate and polite manner with the people with whom he/she will be staying. Write the letter.

 3. A famous writer once said: “For my part, I travel not to go anywhere, but to go. I travel for travel’s sake. The great affair is to move.” In an essay discuss whether you agree or disagree with this statement.

 4. You and a group of friends would like to organise a surprise party for a good friend who is leaving the school. The best place to hold the party is in a large meeting room at the school. You need to get permission from a senior teacher or the principal. Write a letter to this individual, requesting to use the room, and explaining in detail what arrangements will have to be made.

 5. How do you think the world will change and develop over the next ten years, as you and your friends go to university and/or get jobs? Write an article for the school magazine, explaining your predictions for future changes and developments in areas such as work and travel.

 6. As editor-in-chief for the literary magazine at your school write a review of a particular book you have studied, emphasising the reasons why it should be studied in a course.
