Extended Essay-Meaning

The Extended Essay – a requirement of the IB Diploma Programme Core – is an independent research-based essay of approximately 4,000 words. The EE may be written in one of the many IB Subject Areas, All Extended Essays are assessed externally by a trained IB examiner. Extended Essay is to be mandatorily written by a Diploma Candidate. The Extended Essay is an essay, not a narrative or a report. It is not a summation of what is out there. EE has to involve the student's analysis in some way.

Marks contributed by EE towards Diploma

EE along with Theory of Knowledge essay contribute a total of three points. (Refer to EE& TOK matrix in EE guide.)

Length of EE

The upper limit of the Extended Essay is 4,000 words. The word count includes the introduction, the body, the conclusions and any quotations, but does not include the abstract, acknowledgements, the table of contents page, maps, charts, diagrams, annotated illustrations, tables, reference pages and appendices.

How will writing an Extended Essay help?

The Extended Essay demands an in-depth study of a student-chosen topic that is aligned with one of the IB Subject Areas. Writing an Extended Essay strengthens a student's skills in a variety of areas including:

- Conducting independent research
- Forming a clear and arguable research question/thesis
- Effectively using research to support the thesis
- Appropriately documenting sources used in the paper
- Managing an extended timeline for a project
- Communicating ideas and presenting arguments in an organized, logical and consistent manner
- Writing an Extended Essay helps a candidate to develop writing skills that will prepare them for writing assignments in college or university.

How long does the whole EE process take?

Students are expected to spend approximately 40 hours of independent research and writing to complete a quality Extended Essay. The process begins in first DP year with informational sessions, establishing the student/supervisor relationship and submitting a research plan and essay proposal by the month of January in the first year. A solid rough draft of at least 1500 words is due to the supervisor by September of DP second year and with the final draft due in December.

What Subject Areas can one choose from?

The IB offers a variety of Subject Areas to choose from. Students are strongly advised to consider essay topic in subject that is taught at GIS School, as we will be equipped to support such topics. It is advised that a student chooses a topic that they are interested in and is connected to a Subject Area they have studied themselves. For a detailed list of options, ask for a copy of the IB Extended Essay Guide from the IB Diploma Programme Coordinator. Highly recommended that students choose a subject they are studying since then they have been exposed to the “way” academic study in that field is done. Each one has specific requirements for the nature of the paper; e.g. EE in Math would look very different from one in English.

Is EE a persuasive essay or investigation?

- You develop an answer to your research question:
- You can only say what you can prove
- You can only prove what you can find evidence to support
- You can only find evidence that supports your question, if you can identify the experts in the field
- You can only identify experts in the field by searching who the people are who write on this field and who are respected; professors, writers
- So, you state a point, and find some evidence from a reputable, reliable source to back it up.

Criteria for good questions

However, certain disciplines may permit or encourage different ways of formulating the research task. Following makes a research question a good question.

- Can it be asked and answered (Is there an answer? Can information be found to answer?)
- Can sources be found in English? (Shouldn't be translated)
- Will you find experts whose words and work will support this? It can't be about how you feel or think...it is about what you can prove!
- Is it worthwhile to answer? Does it add to the discussion in the field?
- Is the topic focused? Can it be answered in only 4000 words?
- Is the topic broad enough to discuss in up to 4000 words? Not trivial or already answered.
- Can the topic be objectively treated? Not just conjecture or in “pseudo” areas
- Does the question fit squarely in the area of study?
- Does the topic avoid hypothetical discussion? (No, what if ...didn't happen?)
- Are all terms in the question clearly defined and understood by all in the field?

What support does an Extended Essay Supervisor provide?

Recommended five hours' maximum guidance

Your Extended Essay Supervisor provides important support as you research and write your essay. They are limited, however, in what they can do. According to the expectations of the IB, the Extended Essay Supervisor:

- Encourages and supports students as they research and write their EE;
- Offers advice and guidance regarding the research process;
- The Supervisor is a guide, asks questions, suggests sources or research strategies, and provides overall support throughout the process.
- Advice students on how to keep the essay compliant to the assessment criteria.
- Ensures the Extended Essay is the candidate's own work and has not been plagiarised.
- Conduct the Viva Voce interview with the student at the end of the process. This interview allows students to reflect on what they've learned throughout the process and offers the supervisor a chance to engage the student in conversation about their topic as well as monitor authenticity of student work.
- Completes the Supervisor's Report for submission to the assigned Extended Essay Examiner.
- The work done as part of your Extended Essay must be your own work; this includes all research, writing and documentation of sources used. Your Extended Essay Supervisor cannot give you your research question or topic, do research for you, write or edit any part of your essay.
- Your Extended Essay Supervisor will read and comment on one draft only.

Responsibilities of a Student

- Choose an appropriate topic
- Observe the regulations relating to the EE
- Meet deadlines
- Read and understand IB Academic Honesty Policy
- Acknowledge all sources of information & ideas in an approved academic manner appropriate to the field of study (Which citing style).

Responsibility of Academic Honesty

- Important is that the Essay be based on a question for which there is no obvious answer.
- You cannot use someone else's question
- It cannot be based on a piece of work you did for assessment or evaluation in any other class
- It must be based on your own work

- It must include proper citations for any thoughts, ideas, used from others.

Definition of Malpractice

Plagiarism

- The representation of ideas or work of another person as the candidates own

Collusion

- Supporting malpractice by another candidate, as in allowing one's work to be copied or submitted for assessment by another

Duplication of work

- The presentation of the same work for different assessment components and/or diploma requirements

Any other behaviour

- Which gains an unfair advantage for a candidate or which affects the results of another candidate

Recommended things to avoid

Examiners' reports also mention these things to be avoided at all costs. Students should not work with a research question that is too broad or too vague, too narrow, too difficult or inappropriate. A good research question is one that asks something worth asking and that is answerable within 40 hours/4,000 words. It should be clear what would count as evidence in relation to the question, and it must be possible to acquire such evidence in the course of the investigation. If a student does not know what evidence is needed, or cannot collect such evidence, it will not be possible to answer the research question.

In addition, students should not:

- forget to analyse the research question
- ignore the assessment criteria
- collect material that is irrelevant to the research question
- use the internet uncritically
- plagiarize
- Merely describe or report (evidence must be used to support the argument)
- repeat the introduction in the conclusion
- cite sources that are not used. One further piece of advice is as follows: the more background a student has in the subject, the better the chance he or she has of writing a good Extended Essay. Choosing to write the Extended Essay in a subject that is not being studied as part of the Diploma Programme often leads to lower marks.

Presentation of the Extended Essay

Organization

All Extended Essays should include the three components of a research paper: (1) the introduction, (2) the body or development, and (3) the conclusion. The Extended Essay should be written in a clear, correct and formal style appropriate to the subject from which the topic is drawn.

Title Page

Place the title  $\frac{1}{4}$  of the way down from the top of the page. Remember that the title is not the same thing as your research question or topic. Think of an informative title which conveys the essence of your essay. The title should provide a clear indication of the focus of the essay. It should be precise and not necessarily phrased in the form of a question.

In the bottom right corner of your paper include the following:

Your Name

Your Session Number

Word Count

Date

Subject

Structure

The essay must be typed double spaced in 12 pt. font and be as close to 4,000 words as possible without going over the limit. The 4000 words include the Introduction, Body, Conclusion, and any quotations. It does not include the Abstract, Acknowledgements, Table of Contents, Illustrations, Bibliography, Footnotes, Endnotes, or Appendices. Use Times New Roman font in black ink.

The essay should be neat and organized. Do not use run-on sentences and paragraphs that are too long and attempt to treat too many topics. Do not allow careless grammatical and spelling errors to lower your grade. Paragraphs must be topical, readable, and of reasonable length. The essay must be structured and organized logically with all arguments and analysis presented and developed in a systematic fashion and order. Use smooth transitions between paragraphs to link the paragraphs, arguments, and sections of your paper. Use a spelling checker and make sure several competent people proofread your essay.

Requirement of Extended Essay

Your Extended Essay must address each of the following questions.

Introduction

- o What is your research question?
- o Why is the research question significant and worthy of study?
- o Why is the research question significant to you personally?
- o What is your thesis?
- o What is your game plan for the rest of the essay?

Body

- o What is the background information needed in order to understand your research question and thesis?
- o What are the distinct elements of your thesis? How can the thesis be divided and broken down into parts?
- o What are the central arguments you will make to defend your thesis?
- o What are the topical subsections of your body? Outline each subsection of the body.
- o How does each subsection build upon the previous subsection and lead up to the next? How does each subsection contribute to your defence of your thesis?
- o What evidence will you present to support your arguments and thesis?
- o What are your key sources? How will you integrate the evaluation of your sources in the body?
- o How will you integrate critical analysis into your body?

Conclusion

- o How have you sufficiently answered the research question and defended your thesis?
- o What are the major strengths of your thesis and your analysis and defence of it in your essay?
- o What could you have done better in the essay? Evaluate your own work critically.
- o What are the new questions and unresolved questions which have arisen from your research and analysis?
- o Bibliography

o Include only those sources you have cited in the essay.

Reflections of an Extended Essay Examiner

- The success of an Extended Essay is shaped largely during the preparatory stages. Major weaknesses, such as broad topics, lack of focus, and vague research questions, can be traced directly to the research phase.

The iceberg analogy illustrates clearly the importance of the analysis/research/experimentation that underpins the completed essay. Since the initial work is so crucial, consider following the steps outlined below as you prepare your Extended Essay.

- Select a subject in which you have an interest, preferably one of your diploma subjects.
- Read the assessment criteria in The Extended Essay Guide and focus on the interpretation of the criteria that is relevant to your subject.
- Meet your supervisor to discuss your choice of subject and to map out a schedule.
- Draw up a list of research topics that interest you.
- Discuss the topics with your supervisor and then decide on one.
- Read about your topic and narrow it to a number of challenging issues or problems.
- Select one issue or problem as the focus for your essay.
- Formulate a precise and challenging research question or a hypothesis.
- Undertake your analysis/research/experimentation using primary and secondary sources.
- Shape the structure of your answer by creating a series of detailed outlines.
- Rough out the complete essay from title page to bibliography.
- Revise and edit the rough draft carefully.
- Reread the assessment criteria to ensure that your draft addresses all of them.
- Remember that an Extended Essay has a central thesis, argument or point of view.
